"Reminiscence of the Battle of Spottsylvania."

MR. EDITOR:—In the issue of the Commercial of yesterday, I see copied from the Natchez Democrat, an article with the above heading, which, I know, does injustice to other troops engaged in that memorable struggle; and as it omits to mention the part taken by Ramseur's Brigade of North Carolinians, whom Gen. Lee, on the field, declared had saved the army, will you let an humble participant correct the error which he believes was unintentionally made in the article alluded to?

The morning of the 12th. of May, 1864, will be ever remembered by us, and the mighty struggle of the day has made such an impression on our mind that its every ebb and flow will be indelibly fixed in memory as long as life exists. It was just such a morning as this,—dark, murky, and threatening rain,—while a heavy fog canopied the atmosphere. The evening before had witnessed a sharp and bloody encounter at the angle of our works that divided the divisions of Johnson and Rhodes, which was the weakest point on our line, and where Hancock's corps had succeeded in effecting an entrance, but were speedily repulsed by Gordon's and Johnston's Brigades, who were in reserve, in rear of the works. Darkness set in at the moment the struggle was ended at the breastworks, and the enemy were left in possession of the ground only a few rods in front, where a brisk musketry fire during the entire night gave evidence of their determination to hold that important point. It was immediately in rear of that point where Hancock massed his corps during the hours of night, and when daylight appeared, they moved forward, and with unbroken front, with hardly a show of resistance, seized the angle of the Confederate works, where the fight of the evening before occurred, and marching rapidly in rear of the line occupied by Johnston's Division, under cover of the fog, succeeded in surprising the entire division in their rear, while they were eagerly watching for a demonstration in their front. As soon as Hancock's corps had affected this surprise and had attained complete possession of this part of the line, they set up a loud huzza, that first informed the startled Confederates, to the right and left, of the disaster which had occurred, and the danger that threatened them.—Gordon's Brigade of Georgians, and Johnston's Brigade of North Carolinains, were the only troops in reserve on our part of the line. They were quickly formed in line, and moved against the exultant foe, but without success, and finally retired with scarce half the men they attacked with. It was in this effort that the brave Col. Garrett, of the 5th. N. C., fell with his face to the foe, and so many other prominent officers vainly shed their life blood in attempting to snatch victory from defeat. When this renewed disaster occurred, the enemy had an open way in our rear, to the Court House, and there was not a single regiment to oppose them, and it was with grave and doubting hearts that brigades from the line, menaced its entire length, were marched out to fill this unopposed vacuum. Rhodes' Division was the division immediately on the left of Johnston who had been surprised and overthrown, and already Rhodes' men on the extreme right were becoming demoralized, and fleeing to the rear. At this critical juncture Ramseur's Brigade of North Carolinians were the first to dispute the onward march of the foe. It was then past seven o'clock. The fog had arisen from the earth, and we could now plainly see the terrible disaster that had befallen us. The breastworks of Johnston were full of our enemies in blue, while three or four other lines were between them and us. It looked sheer folly for this handful of men to oppose that host. But no reinforcements were to be had. Ewell, pale and excited, vainly endeavored to rally the fugitives from the beaten brigades, and orders were sent in every direction for further aid. Already the enemy had perceived us, and were plunging cannon shots into our own ranks from the captured guns in the works. The hostile forces were preparing to advance. Finally, Gen. Lee arrives, and galloping to Ramseur he tells him "those works must be re-captured, or the day is lost." Well do I remember Ramseur's words and looks.—Mounted on his horse, he faced to his brigade and in ringing tones told them what Gen. Lee had said, and asked them if they would go.—A unanimous "yes," from right and left was the response. He gave the command "Forward! the second the battalion of direction!" and as if on dress-parade, the entire line moved forward amid cheers, musketry, cannonading and death. Not once did the brigade falter until it reached an incomplete line of works immediately in rear of the line taken from Johnston; there they delivered one volley, and rushed forward again, drove the enemy from the works in their front, and secured them to our forces.—Here the brigade held its own u aided, for over an hour, fighting an enemy in front, who attempted to retake the works, and who came in columns by brigades, three or four deep, and at the same time were fighting an enemy on their right flank, from traverse to traverse. I never was in as severe a fire before, and it seemed as if even the breastworks were no protection, as shot and shell flew from every direction, and concentrated its vindictive fire on our devoted heads.

About one hour after our success, the first succors came to our relief. It was Harris' Brigade of Mississippians, and singly and alone had we contended until then. We already had the works, and they did not storm them, but simply reinforced us, and side by side, with the Mississippians, we together held the works through the long hours of the day and night, and successfully repelled every effort made to retake the works by assault after assault made upon the line. The fire was incessant the live long day and night; and trees immediately in our rear, two and a half and three feet thick, were utterly hewn down by minnie balls alone.

Gen. Ramseur and his brigade that day received the plaudits of all, and Gen. Lee was heard to say "that clever fellow Ramseur, and his noble brigade, had saved his army from disaster by that daring and successful charge."—Ramseur's Brigade expended one hundred and fifty rounds of ammunition to the man during the day.

Among the heroes who fell in that struggle, Newbern gave her share. I remember the gallant bearing of Sergeant Atmore, of Co. I and Sergeant Cherry, of Co. K, 2nd N. C. Regiment, and saw them when they fell mortally wounded.

J. C. G.

[The Junior Editor of this paper had the honor to be Adjutant General of the gallant Brigade that saved the day at Spottsylvania, and it was his purpose to have vindicated its claims to that achievement, so strangely overlooked in the article copied from the Natchez Journal. He felt bound to do this, as a matter of justice to that intrepid and dashing soldier, Stephen Dodd Ramseur, and to as brave and heroic a Brigade as was ever marshalled on any field, in ancient or modern times. But the duty has been so well and fully performed by Capt. Jno. C. Gorman, of this City, a gallant officer of the 2nd N. C., one of the Regiments composing the Brigade, that nothing is necessary beyond his graphic and perfectly truthful account of what was done on that memorable morning.]

PROSPECTUS.

This company owns by warranty title nearly fourteen thousand acres of mineral lands, situated in the counties of Chatham, Moore, Rockingham and Stokes, on the waters of Deep and Dan Rivers, in North Carolinia, which abound in plentiful deposits of coal, copper, iron, salt, and, there is every reason to believe from general and surface indications, petroleum or coal oil.

The services of two practical and efficient men, experienced in boring for oil, and stimulated by a long course of success in Venango county, Pennsylvania, were secured by the company several months since and they are now on the lands, with the requisite force, tools, steam engine and machinery, boring a well with very flattering prospects of success. The organization of this company effected some time since has now been perfected in legal form, by act of incorporation, with a capital of $500,000, divided into 100,000 shares of $5 each.

By reference to the valuable and laborious reports of Prof. Emmons, State Geologist, and Commodore Wilkes, U. S. Navy, every one interested will be enabled to judge of the value of the large area of territory secured by the North Carolina Petroleum and Mining Co.

It is well known that a superior article of bituminous coal is now being mined in the Deep river coal region, where a portion of the lands are situated, and this company owns property known to be equal if not superior to any on which shafts have been sunk. Copper, iron and salt also abound, and the attention of capitalists has already been directed to this section on account of its value for the above minerals.

Below are given a few extracts from the journals showing that there is no good reason why there should not be as large quantities of oil in the "Old North State" as in other States.

Oil has been struck in Overton county, Tennessee, on the north line of that State, about midway from its eastern border, eighteen miles from the Cumberland mountains.—Christian (Richmond) Observer.

OIL WELLS IN WEST VIRGINIA.—The Parkersburg Times gives an astonishing statement of the yield of wells in the region thereabout, consisting of Wood, Wirt, Ritchie and other counties, viz: Burning Springs, 2,500 barrels per day; White Oak, 1,500; Lick Run, 300; Horse Neck, 150; and of the several wells on Hughes river, 6,000 barrels per day. The quality is said to be remarkably fine. The Times considers the oil of West Virginia the best yet discovered.

THE OIL EXCITEMENT IN ILLINOIS.—The oil excitement in Clark county is still high. Some eight or ten derricks are up and at work. The deepest well is only 325 feet, with a fair yield of oil. Some of the other wells have struck oil and gas at from 70 to 100 feet. Much time and money will be spent this summer in the thorough development of the oil resources of Clark county. Men of capital and experience seem confident that oil will be found in large quantities, and are willing to test their faith by a free expenditure in developing the lands. The first company who bored on the land of Hon. T. B. Young, are now engaged in trying to raise the auger which was lost last fall. The Eastern Illinois Company will begin work in a few days twelve miles southwest of the first well. The prospect in that locality is good.—Chicago Tribune.

It is known that after a few months boring in the vicinity of Lynchburg, a large vein of oil was struck and a productive well is now in successful operation. This is on the same line with, and about 80 miles from, the company's first well on Dan River, where the indications both general and particular are similar.

In order to have sufficient means to develop this valuable property in such a manner as to insure success, the Directors have authorized 10,000 shares of the capital stock to be sold to raise a working capital, and subscriptions for that number or any part thereof will be received.

An uncommonly favorable opportunity for investment is thus afforded, as those who choose to buy stock under this offer will have the advantage of an equal footing with the original corporators in an enterprise which, after the example of the immense profits realized in those of a similar character in other States, though in many respects on less favorable conditions than this, (compare the extent, cheapness and fee simple title of the basis of operations here offered gives reasonable assurance of the most lucrative results. In many instances in sections of less favorable oil localities, shares have advanced in a few days from $3 or $5 to $20 and even $50, and poor men who made small investments realized fortunes.

Further information may be had at the office of the company, one door north of the Court House, Greensboro, N. C., where books of subscription are now open.

By order of the Directors.

IMPORTANT SALE

IN WILSON NORTH CAROLINA

THE undersigned, having been duly appointed and empowered by the stockholders of

to make sale of that VALUABLE PROPERTY, including all the buildings, together with about Twelve and a fourth Acres of Land, will offer the same at public auction, on the 14th day of September next.

The Seminary is a large and commodious building, admirably arranged for school purposes, and contains a sufficient number of rooms to accommodate about TWO HUNDRED STUDENTS. The buildings are nearly new, having been erected in 1860, and are of every kind needed in a first class Seminary.

The Seminary is located on the Eastern boundary of the town of Wilson, below the Wilmington and Weldon Railroad, and on an elevated spot of ground, well shaded, and having excellent wells of water. The proverbial healthiness of the town of Wilson, (it being the highest point on the Wilmington and Weldon Railroad,) and the morality, intelligence and refinement of its citizens, make it one of the most desirable locations for a first class, Male or Female, Seminary in the State.

Of the 12¼ acres of land a sufficient quantity will be sold for school or other purposes, together with all the buildings formerly used by Seminary, and the balance of the land will be sold in lots, the size of which will be announced on the day of sale.

TERMS OF SALE.—One-fourth cash; on the balance a credit of six months will be given.

The Southern Loyal Unionists.

A pretty strong effort has been made in this State, but mostly in a private way, to get up meetings in response to the call of the Radical Convention, which meets in Philadelphia, on the 3rd prox. So far as we have observed, no meetings have been made public, (if any others have been held,) except those in Henderson, Washington and Guilford Counties. A meeting was called at Rutherfordton, but the number of persons attending was so small no meeting was held.

Most of the persons, whose names figure in these meetings, are obscure individuals, not much known beyond their immediate precincts. We are not disposed to attribute to them improper motives. It is fair to presume that many of them are honest, and, believing that the Radical policy will prevail, they therefore think it is best to put themselves in a position to cover their heads, if a storm should arise. Others, however, are more intelligent, and are capable of understanding the Radical programme, as well as the President's policy, who must see clearly the consequences of the continuance of Radical misrule, and who cannot fail to discover the radical and mischievous changes which must be effected in the government, should the Radicals succeed. They must see that the principles and purposes of the Radicals lead directly to the destruction of the Federal Union of States and to the formation of a central government, under the control of Congress, under which all State lines and State rights must be obliterated. They must see that so bent upon this purpose are the Radicals, that at the risk of bloodshed and war they will press it, unless the next elections convince them of their declining strength and the utter destruction of their party.

Many of those in this State, who now claim to be loyal unionists, are prompted by malevolent feelings. Some of them were no doubt unjustly treated during the war. Some were improperly arrested and hardly dealt with, but, perhaps, the larger portion were at first blatant Southern men, but timid, cowardly spirits, who abandoned the cause at an early day, and since, being discarded by true Southern men, have allied themselves with "red stringa," or "strait sect" men, and, later still, with the Radicals, in order to vent their spleen upon some one for the loss of their property.

These "loyal Unionists" in this State, however, seem to have but one principle, and, perhaps, but one aim, and that is, to wrest the offices of the country and the control of public affairs from the hands of the former secessionists and Southern war men, in order to enjoy them themselves. Being a hopeless minority, they have no prospect of effecting this, only by the disfranchisement of the masses of the people, and hence, for the sake of promoting their own advantage, they are willing to embrace the entire Radical programme, at the risk of the utter overthrow of the government of our fathers, to secure which oceans of blood may be shed.

Now, we ask North Carolina loyal Unionists, men who have claimed to be always conservative Democrats or conservative Whigs, if they have pondered the step they are taking? Have they fathomed the deep, malicious designs of the Radical party? Are they ready to sacrifice the old government—the government of their fathers, and bring down upon the country another fratricidal war, for the sake of the mere temporary advantage of ruling the country—a rule which must soon be transferred into military hands and ultimately to a limited or absolute monarchy? Before this latter is reached, unless all history fails here, seas of blood must be spilled.

Will any North Carolinian, whatever may have been his antecedents or whatever his wishes personal to himself or for the future of the country, give countenance for a moment to a deliberate design, on the part of the Radicals, to break up the Federal Union of States, to inaugurate a central consolidated government, directed by Congress, which is determined to reduce the white people of the nation to the level of the black race in all civil and political rights; which must end in the social degradation of the white race and consequent miscegenation, or such a mixture of the races as will bring this great and proud nation to the condition of Mexico? Can there be found a white man or an intelligent, right minded colored man, in North Carolina, who desires this and who would promote it in any way? Let those in this State, who call themselves loyal Unionists, beware how they sanction the Radical Convention in Philadelphia! Let them scout the proposition to meet in such a Convention as that, cheek by jowl with Fred. Douglas. And let them remember that those who endorse the Radical programme are traitors to the Constitution, traitors to the Union and traitors to the government of the fathers!

MAJOR JNO. H. GEE has resumed the practice of medicine in Quincy, Fla.

The Presidential Tour.

The remarkable demonstrations which greet the President, at every stage of his progress mean something more than ordinary respect for his great office. They evince a personal attachment for the man and an enthusiastic appreciation of his efforts to restore the government and tranquillize the Country. Viewed in that light, they are full of hopeful augury. They afford every reason to believe that the masses of the people are arousing themselves to the dangers that menace our Republican Institutions, and are resolved to hurl from power the malignants and fanatics who have imperilled the cause of Constitutional liberty.

The President's tour is, fortunately, well-timed. The enthusiasm engendered by his personal appearance and his manly and noble utterances, is calculated to tell with powerful effect upon the ensuing Fall elections,—the results of which are to be so decisive of the fate of the Republic. The endorsement of his policy by the highest military and naval officers of the government,—the idols of the Northern populace,—as attested by the presence of Gen. Grant and Admiral Farragut, is calculated to augment that enthusiasm and to strengthen the popular confidence in his administration. The visit, too, affords the masses the best opportunity that could possibly be presented of ratifying and endorsing the patriotic action of the late great National Union Convention. This they are doing in the most emphatic and unmistakable manner. Whenever, in the course of his brief addresses to the people, the President utters a sentiment, breathing devotion to the Constitution as it is, and defiance to his enemies, it is received with almost rapturous approval. It is safe to say, in a word, that no public officer of the government has even been received with such spontaneous and irrepressible marks of popular esteem and affection.

To pretend that these things are not significant of a mighty moving of the waters is to shut one's eyes, wilfully, to a grand moral demonstration. The strongest and most insidious efforts have been made by the Radical leaders to discourage these manifestations of popular feeling. In Philadelphia, the Jacobins, who control the municipal government, offered the President a studied insult, in refusing to extend to him the hospitalities of the city,—disgracing themselves by an exhibition of petty malignity, unworthy of a set of Camanche Indians. But the masses took the matter in hand, and, unheeding the hint of these despicable officials, gave the President a reception worthy of themselves and worthy of the great Tribune of the people.

As the President journeys westward, he will doubtless be greeted with increased marks of confidence and enthusiasm.

Removals of Radicals from Office.

The following letter from the Secretary of the Navy will explain itself. It enunciates the true policy:

WASHINGTON, D. C., August 22, 1866.

Dear Sir—Your note of the 17th inst., stating that Richard Wood "has without alleged cause been discharged," and asking the reason of his removal, has been received.

The Department does not hold itself bound to assign reasons in every case of change that it makes.

But Mr. Wood is understood to be an active partisan opponent of the President, and of those who sustain him in his efforts to re-establish the Union.

The Administration, and these connected with it, would fail in their duty to the country were they to retain in the employment of the Government any one who would weaken and embarrass the efforts which are made to promote national unity, or who would, at such a period, impair confidence in those who are exerting themselves to sustain the President in his labors for the welfare of the whole country. Very respectfully,

GIDEON WELLES.

HON. LEONARD MYERS, Philadelphia, Pa.

PRESENT TO GENERAL R. E. LEE.—A splendid saddle was forwarded from our city, per National Express, to General R. E. Lee, as a present from the Hon. Mr. Connelly, M. P., who was a frequent guest of the General during the war. The saddle is of English Horse Guard pattern, with holsters, valise, pockets for writing materials, and a splendid shabrack of wool, bound with red cloth. The bridle and breast-strap are specimens of admirable workmanship; the whole forming a useful and worthy present.—Columbia South Carolinian.

THE PRESIDENT IN PHILADELPHIA.

His Speech to the Multitude.

Fellow Citizens:—In visiting Philadelphia on the present occasion it was not for the purpose of making a speech, but it was on my way, in company with distinguished gentlemen, to the great city of the West, Chicago, to witness and participate in laying the chief corner-stone of the monument to be erected in memory of a distinguished statesman. We have taken Philadelphia on our route, and being here to-day, I must be permitted to tender to the citizens of Philadelphia on this occasion, and under the peculiar circumstances, my heart-felt and sincere thanks for this public demonstration. I trust the day is far distant when one part of our Union shall be arrayed in battle against the other. I trust the day is far distant when brother shall be set against brother, and, in the name of God, shall lift his hand against his throat. I trust the day is far distant when the land we love shall be again drenched with a brother's blood. [Cries of "Good."] The baleful planet of fire and blood has disappeared, and the benignant star of peace has taken its place, and under its influence I trust the country will return to affection, peace and harmony, and that reconciliation will again be brought about, and we shall be enabled to stand together as one people and one Union. [Cheers.] So far as reters to the past, with regard to political affairs, I have already said I did not intend to make a speech. My public acts and messages are already before the country, and it is from them you are to judge. [Voices—"That's a fact." "You are right." "Go ahead." "We are with you."] Believing as I do that the policy I have pursued has been calculated to advance and promote the best interests of the country, God being my helper, I intend to stand by it, and with your help, and God willing, this Union shall be restored. [General applause.] Then let us stand together; let us approach a common platform; let us forget that we have been divided into parties, and forget, too, that we must obey the behest of party instead of the command of the country. Let your country be saved; let the interests of the great masses of the people be preserved. Then let parties sink into insignificance. If a party must be maintained, let it be based on the great principles of the Constitution. Yes, the Constitution of my country is the strongest league which can be formed, (renewed and general applause;) and when you talk about leagues (laughter,) who is it that has entered into a covenant and formed a league above the Constitution? (Applause.) Such a one has entered into a combination against his country, and we should look to it. Let each man belong to the great national league, and let the Constitution of the United States be the Constitution of his league. For myself, I want no better constitutional league than that formed by Washington and his compeers. (Applause.) It was good enough for them; it is good enough for you and for me. (Applause, and cries of "That's a fact," You are right.") As a band of brothers, loving our country and determined to support the National Constitution, let us stand around the common altar of our country and swear that all shall perish and fall in the dust rather than the Union of these States shall not be maintained. [Applause.] From my youth to the present time it has always been my creed on all great emergencies to rely on the intelligence, patriotism, and integrity of the American people; and so I stand to-day. [Applause.] The Constitution of the country is in your hands, and I feel confident that you will, at the proper time, and at the ballot-box, give such expression as will maintain it, so that the country will stand redeemed and regenerated. (Applause.) As I entered your city to-day I saw on a mechanical establishment the words, "Welcome to the President." I know it was the emanation of laboring men. [Cheers.] Who placed it there knew of my confidence in them; and if you, the people, will act right, as evidenced here to day, you—[a voice, "All right"]—you can bring the class of men who call themselves politicians to terms without much effort on your part. [Cries, "That's a fact."] We have heard much about emancipation. Who has tried more than I have to establish that great principle? But are you quite sure that a large portion of Pennsylvanians are not having the tyrant's rod held over them? Who is it that is holding that rod over you? There is much talk about men being put out of office. The clamor is that somebody is turned out and somebody is put in. The reason for this is, they desire to perpetuate themselves in power, and say to you and the people who fought battles and exposed themselves to danger, while they remained safe at home, that they must not be turned out, and no body else appointed to offices. [Applause.] Is that good old doctrine of rotation in office been forgotten?—Are no other persons than those who are now in office to participate in the conduct of the Government, and are they to have the power and attempt to exercise it as unrelentingly as tyrants themselves? I say, then, to you, come up to the work, and the tyrant's rod can be bent and broken. I repeat, that the Government is in your hands, and I have always been and am still willing to trust it to you. Fellow-citizens, I did not intend to say as much as I have. There are other gentlemen here who will be compelled to make some remarks. I will therefore conclude by tendering my sincere and heart-felt thanks for this spontaneous manifestation of regard and respect for one who has labored during his whole, and he might say, eventful life, to promote and advance the interests of the great masses of the people. I thank you, gentlemen, and with parting with you leave the Government in your hands, where I know it will be safe.

Repeated cheers were given on the conclusion of this speech, when the President and the distinguished party retired from the balcony. The crowd lingered some time about the hotel and then retired.

It will probably be arranged to open the approaching disunion Radical convention in Philadelphia by Fred. Douglas and Parson Brownlow walking into the hall arm-in-arm. That will throw into the shade the Massachusetts and South Carolina sensation of the late National Union Convention in the same city.

The Galveston (Texas) papers say that the introduction of the Cashmere goat into that State has not proved a profitable enterprise.

Extraordinary Operations of a Country Sharper and His two Sisters.

(From the Buffalo Express, Saturday.)

There was released from the Erie County jail, yesterday morning, a a young man named Robert L. Guise, the story of whose performances is one of the most remarkable that we have ever had to relate. Guise, who is now about twenty-four years of age, lives at Clarence Hollow, in this county, where his father was an honest blacksmith.

In the same town there lives a wealthy old farmer named Randolph Zimmer, who is about seventy years of age, impaired in intellect by his years, credulous in disposition, and just prepared by circumstances to become the victim of rascally arts. The old man settled upon a farm of three hundred acres at Clarence, years ago, and gradually accumulated wealth to the amount of not less than $70,000. About three years ago, Zimmer's wife died, leaving him alone with only an adopted daughter of fourteen or fifteen years, to care for him.

This was young Guise's opportunity, and upon these circumstances his scheme was laid. By adroit methods he wormed himself into the old man's confidence, and also brought to bear upon him the seducing arts of two sisters. The eldest of these, and the one principally engaged in the conspiracy against Zimmer, is a young woman named Mrs. Nancy M. Smith, who had been divorced from her husband, and who has since, about two weeks ago, run away with a certain "Major Eldridge" to parts unknown—Mrs. Nancy is a lady of some twenty-seven or tweny-eight years, quite ordinary in personal appearance, it is said, but she is nevertheless supposed to have exercised a complete fascination over the old man Zimmer. The young sister, Miss. Nora Guise, is about twenty-two years of age and fair.

This trio of leeches fastened themselves upon the unfortunate septuagenarian, and began, three years ago, a systematic vampirism which has exhausted pretty nearly the whole of his large property. Having acquired a complete ascendancy over him, under one pretext and another, Guise got mortgages and other securities transferred to him, while his sister Nancy actually acquired a title deed to Zimmer's farm of three hundred acres. As fast as the young scoundrel got the property into his hands, he expended it in the most extravagantly riotous living. At one time he is said to have had no less than eighteen horses, of valuable stock, with carriages and equipages to match, two colored servants, a house magnificently filled with the richest rosewood furniture, a wardrobe to which every month added new suits, of the very latest and loudest fashion, and all other luxuries of living to correspond.

While Guise pretended to Zimmer that that property which he obtained from him was either invested in some way or deposited in Buffalo, he accounted for his style of living by stories of a wonderful rich man who had made him (Guise) his agent in certain immense transactions, and whose liberality of compensation was something prodigious. Zimmer most devoutly believed in this man of gold, especially after Guise had exhibited to him, as he did once, what seemed to be a $20,000 bank bill, which had been given to the said Guise by his extraordinary patron, one half to be paid to Zimmer on Guise's debt to him, and the other half to be jointly expended by Guise and Zimmer in a huge, tremendous spree. Guise even went so far in the development of this audacious fable as to pretend, at length, that he had married his rich friend's daughter, and actually brought home some prostitutes from the city, whom he introduced as his wife, and some of her friends.

Zimmer swallowed the whole huge fiction, and for three years the expensive comedy has been playing. It seems that the neighbors have not had their eyes closed to what was going on, and yet owing to the usual difficulty of action in what is nobody's business in particular, they suffered the old man to be plundered until nothing but a wreck of his fortune remained.—At last, Mr. L. G. Wiltsie, Supervisor from Clarence, and Mr. George Van Tine, Deputy Sheriff, took the matter in hand, and caused the arrest of Guise on Saturday last. He was brought before Judge Lockwood, of the County Court, and held to bail in the sum of $20,000. Unable to give the required bail, he was committed to jail, where he languished until yesterday morning, when he in some way obtained released upon disgorging the whole remnant of Zimmer's property in his possession.—It is thought that the rescued fragments will realize some $15,000 or $20,000. Not less than $50,000 have been plundered and squandered.

The extraordinary young sharper by whom this brilliant game of artistic rascality has been played, is a little fellow about four feet and a half in height, with sandy hair and moustache, and principally distinguished by the sinister keenness of his eyes.

TRIBUTE OF RESPECT.

PHILANTHROPIC HALL, UNIVERSITY OF N. C.
August 10th, 1866.

LEWIS MAVERICK departed this life, in the twenty eighth year of his age, at San Antonio, Texas, on the 18th, of June last.

This sad intelligence having reached the Society, of which he was an honored member, it is unanimously

Resolved, That the Philanthrophic Society of the University of North Carolina has heard, with the deepest sorrow, of the death of Lewis Maverick, who, in the varied relations of life, as a student, as a soldier, and as a citizen, had by his noble qualities and gentlemanly bearing endeared himself to all.

Resolved, That while we bow, in humble submission, to the fiat of Him, "Whose Kingdom ruleth over all," we cannot but be conscious that, by this mournful dispensation of Providence, this Society has been deprived of one of its most promising members, the community in which he lived of a rising citizen, and his family of a kind and thoughtful son, brother and husband.

Resolved, That though we would not intrude upon the sacred privacy of domestic grief, we would freely mingle our tears with those of his afflicted family, assuring them of our heartfelt sympathy in this their hour of gloom.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the family of the deceased, and to the Raleigh Sentinel and San Antonio Herald, with a request for publication.

INFALLIBLE YEAST POWDERS.

Scientific men, who thoroughly understand the subject, concur with great unanimity in saying that nothing exerts such a deleterious influence against health as bad bread. The remedy is at hand in SIMPSON'S INFALLIBLE YEAST POWDERS, the value of which is thus certified:

RALEIGH, Aug. 24, 1866.

I have tested the Yeast Powders you manufacture and can recommend them as vastly superior to any other ever used by me. In addition to the lightness and sweetness of the bread, the powders are economical, as one-third the lard usually required will answer in the making of either loaf bread or biscuit. For pastries and cakes they are excellent.

VIRGINIA A. OER.

The price of these powders per package is 25 cts. or 75 cts. per pound. To be had at Wm. Simpson's Confectionary Store, Fayetteville Street, Raleigh, N. C.

RALEIGH, Aug. 23, 1866.

This is to certify that I have used Mr. Simpson's Yeast Powders and find them to be superior to any I have ever used. After trying them once no housekeeper will be satisfied without them.

A magnificent assortment of

in all their new styles and combinations, at prices that will not fail to please. I would call special attention to my stock of the largest in Va., or North Carolina, embracing 20,000 yards, all bought at auction, and will be sold at prices far below any similar quality ever offered in this market. I have also just received over 10,000 yards of PANTALOON GOODS, in every variety of finish and quality, varying in price from 30c, to $3. I would say to those in want of that the greatest care has been taken in the selection of the best colors and finest fabrics, and they have but to be seen to be appreciated, so that those in want had better

I would also call the attention of the public to the celebrated Florence Lock Stitch Sewing Machine.

This Machine, being but recently introduced, is already gaining for itself a host of friends, as our daily sales testify. Its simplicity and recommend it to all. It possesses all the best qualities of the good standard Machines with several important improvements, more fully explained in the "Circulars," which I send free by mail to any address on application.

THE SENTINEL.

Friday Evening, Aug. 31, 1866.

CITY AND STATE ITEMS.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.—Mr. Wallace, former Superintendent of the Exchange Hotel, has rented the residence of Alfred Williams, Esq., and will accommodate guests with first-class board.

See new weekly announcement of Oliver Ditson & Co., Musical Publishers, Boston.

Westbrook & Co., Greensboro', announce their new catalogue of Fruit-trees, Grape-vines, &c., for the autumn of 1866.

Read the certificates as to the excellence of Simpson's infallible Yeast Powders.

See announcement of Rev. Dr. Samson's Lectures, for the benefit of the poor, under the auspicies of the Young Men's Christian Association, to-night and to-morrow night.

Dibble, Worth & Co., Commission Merchants, 188 Pearl St., New York, will give prompt personal attention to sales of Southern produce.—See Card.

Worth and Daniel, Wilmington, have for sale, on moderate terms, a large lot of salt, lime, cement, &c., &c.

DR. SAMSON'S LECTURES.—Our citizens must not forget the Lectures of Dr. Samson,—the first of which will be delivered in the Commons Hall to-night,—nor the charitable object to which their proceeds will be appropriated.—The Wilmington Journal thus speaks of them:

"In Dr. Samson is combined both fluency of speech and pleasantness of style. His description of the scenery of various countries in the East, and the manners and customs of the inhabitants, is very interesting. Some of the various traditions which abound among those people were related, and the relative positions of the countries discoursed upon. Ancient relics were described and the condition of the people explained.

The lecture throughout was interspersed with various scenes and incidents of the ancient and historical East. Our expectations regarding the discourse were fully realized, and those who delight in incidents relating to the Holy Land, and eloquence of language, we would advise to avail themselves of the opportunity of hearing Dr. Samson."

THE LATEST AGONY.—Go to Thiem's Variety Store, on Fayetteville Street, and get the latest style in the way of gentlemen's collars,—linen or paper. It is called the "Shakspeare" collar, and is neat and tasty, and a great improvement upon existing fashions.

HIS EXCELLENCY, GOV. Worth, will be absent from the City a few days. He is in attendance upon the Commencement exercises of the Pittsboro Scientific Academy.

THANKS to the National Express Company for Northern papers in advance of the mails.

WE ACKNOWLEDGE the receipt of a copy of the Annual Address before the two Literary Societies of the University, June 1st., 1865, by the Hon. Wm. H. Battle, LL. D. We promise ourselves the pleasure of reading it as soon as we can find the leisure. The name of the distinguished author is a sufficient guarantee of its merits.

THE CRESCENT MONTHLY (New Orleans: Wm. Evelyn & Co.,) for September has been laid upon our table. Its typography is beautiful and the table of contents indicates much pleasant and instructive reading.

We have heretofore inadvertently omitted to notice that an arrangement has been effected between the Field and Fireside, Key-Stone and Rural Journal (W. B. Smith & Co., of this city,) and the Crescent Monthly, by which all of these various publications will be simultaneously issued in New Orleans and Raleigh. This is an arrangement which promises well for Southern Literature and we wish it encouragement and success.

AN ECCLESIASTICAL ERROR.—We observe that many of our secular cotemporaries, when alluding to the Meth. Epis. Church, South since the late General Conference of that Church, speak of it as the Episcopal Methodist Church, as it the alteration of the name had been fixed. The late General Conference changed the name, subject, however, to the approval of two-thirds or three-fourths of the Annual Conferences.—We observe that some of the Western papers express much doubt as to the change being adopted, as many of the Western Conferences, especially, are opposed to it, most of them preferring the old name. We should not be surprised if the same feeling prevails in North Carolina.

BLADEN COUNTY.—We learn, from the Wilmington Journal, that Cols. J. J. D. Lucas and J. A. Richardson are the candidates for the Commons in Bladen county. Col. Richardson represented the county in the last Convention, and Col. Lucas was a member of the last House of Commons. These gentlemen have met at one or more public meetings. The question at issue is repudiation,—Col. Richardson advocating and Col. Lucas opposing the doctrine.

CABARRUS.—His Honor Judge Mitchell is holding a special term of Oyer and Terminer in Cabarrus County the present week. We learn, from the Salisbury Banner, that the negro who committed the outrage upon Mrs. Query, last month, was convicted and sentenced to be hung on the first Friday in September. The Judge is also "persecuting" the horse thieves, two of whom were whipped, a white man and a negro.

CONFEDERATE CURRENCY RECOGNIZED.—The Petersburg Index says that the mercantile house of Martin, Plummer & Co., of that city, received a letter, a day or two since, from a correspondent in North Carolina, the postage upon which was paid with a ten cent Confederate stamp—one of those old fashioned blue stamps, ten of which it used to take to buy a small sized loaf of bread.

G. W. WHITFIELD, Esq., Editor of the Shelby Argus, is a candidate for the House of Commons in Cleveland County.

THE LATE HON. JNO. M. MOREHEAD.—The funeral of our late distinguished fellow-citizen took place, at Greensboro', this morning. A meeting of the citizens was held at that place on yesterday, for the purpose of paying proper respect to his memory, which was largely attended. The following gentlemen were designated as pall-bearers, viz: Dr. Wm. R. Holt, of Lexington: Hon. Thomas Ruffin, of Alamance; A. S. Buford, of Virginia; and John A. Gilmer, Ralph Gorrell, David Scott, Peter Adams, Robert M. Sloan, Richard Sterling, and A. P. Eckel, of Greensboro.

FACTORY BURNT.—The tobacco factory of Colonel J. C. Pinnix, near Yanceyville, North Carolina, was entirely consumed by fire on Sunday night last, together with a large lot of tobacco. Some insurance we hear, but what amount we cannot learn.

RATIFICATION IN FRANKLIN.—The Louisburg Eagle contains a call for a mass meeting of the people of Franklin, at the Court House, on the 11th. prox., (Tuesday of September Court.) for the purpose of ratifying the proceedings of the National Union Convention. This is right.

A HOAX.—The report that Mr. Fred. Perry, of Beaufort, was shot and killed, while walking between two ladies, proves to have been entirely unfounded. We heard of the rumor yesterday, but not believing it, declined to publish it.—Newbern Commercial.

MURDER IN HALIFAX COUNTY, N. C.—Two negroes got into an altercation a few days ago in Dumplin Town, in this county, resulting in the death of one—his opponent literally cutting him to pieces. The murderer has escaped.—Weldon State.

BOLD ATTEMPT AT HIGHWAY ROBBERY.—Mr. Baker, from Gates County, N. C., was accosted by two negroes, when within a few miles of Portsmouth, Monday night, on his way to market. They demanded of him his money and load, while one of them laid hands on his horse. He ostensibly complied with their demands, but instead of his pocket-book, he presented a revolver and shot both; one of them fell in the road, while the other took leg bail. The wounded one finally scrambled into the woods and put up a terrible yell. Mr. B. was alone, and could not leave his horse to look after him.—We would advise our country friends who come to market, to be prepared for such attacks, and when they shoot, to make it tell. A few examples will do much to stop these bold attempts at highway robbery.—Norfolk Virginian.

Great Speech of the President in New York,—Noble Sentiments,—The President Declares Gen. Grant and Himself in Accord.

NEW YORK, Aug. 30, P. M.

The banquet given to the President, last night, was a splendid affair. Among those present were Grant, Farragut, Seward, Welles, Rousseau, the Mexican and Brazilian ministers, A. T. Stewart, Astor, and upwards of two thousand citizens.

The President spoke at great length, and said in the course of his remarks: "That the Government went to war for the express purpose of restoring the union of these States. And the government had established the great fact that the States have not the power or right, either by forcible or peaceable means, to separate from each other. But the Congress has practically assumed, and up to the present time carried out, the doctrine that the government was dissolved, and these States were out of the Union. We denied the right to secede, even peaceably. And now we find, when these States seek again to renew their practical relations with the Union, by sending representatives to Congress, there are men in that body who, in violation of our great charter of liberty, refuse to admit them.

The question is, will we submit? Will the American people submit to this practical assertion of the doctrine they repudiated and overthrew by the war? That issue is before you. If we submit to this, we give the lie direct to every position taken bo us since the war commenced. He asked, in the spirit of christianity and sound philosophy, if we are prepared again to see one portion of the country arrayed against the other in deadly conflict. Or shall we make every effort to unite the whole country in harmony and brotherly affection.

Referring to the Philadelphia Convention, he said that the best evidence that can be known of loyalty, are LOYAL PROFESSIONS AND LOYAL ACTIONS. And when those gentlemen met in Convention, from the North and South, came forward and professed devotion to the Union and Constitution, and when their actions and professions correspond, who shall dare to doubt them? Have we reached that point, that all confidence is lost in men? If we have, I tell you that your government is not as strong as a rope of sand, has no weight and will tumble to peices. The adhesive power of this government is in the confidence which the people feel in each other.

He said that the South had accepted the arbitrament of the sword and wanted to return again to the Union. He did not want to see them come back degraded; he wanted them to come with ALL THEIR MANHOOD. They have again taken up the Constitution and ask that its laws shall be enforced. What, then, was the cause of distrust? There is no cause!

He also said that Gen. Grant and himself fought for the Union at one end of the line, and now they were fighting for it at the other; and if Grant was not in the field, he was doing equally good service. (Laughter and applause.)

He said that our $3,000,000,000 of debt could be paid only by the consolidation of our nationality and the perpetuity and union of the States.

In conclusion, he said that the demonstration in New York confirmed him in his opinion that the people will take care of the Government, and those who would attempt to frustrate them had better stand aside. He, himself, had reached the submit of his ambition, with one exception. But one thing was wanting. Would you hear it? (Cries of "yes, yes.") At this particular crisis and period of our history, when the States are in peril, if I can be the instrument, in the hands of the people, of restoring the Union and making it complete, causing the Government to re commence the glorious career of prosperity and greatness, I will be willing to exclaim, as Simeon did of old, when he saw the babe born in the manger: "I have seen the glory of Thy salvation. Let Thy servant depart in peace." (Enthusiastic applause.) That being done, my ambition is complete,—I would rather live in the affections and hearts of my countrymen, as having consummated this great end, than be President of the United States forever!"

Here the audience broke into an irrepressible burst of applause, and on the call of Gen. Sandford, gave three cheers "for Andrew Johnson, the Restorer of the Union."

A Howl from Banks.

BOSTON, Aug. 30, P. M.

At a Radical mass meeting in Portland, Gen. Banks intimated that the President was a prospective traitor and that Gen. Grant was a time-server.

He said that the first act of the rebels, after their accession to power, would be to remove Grant from office and place one of their own Generals in his stead.

The President made no lengthy reply, but merely returned his thanks, and, as the chief Magistrate of the Country, accepted the hospitalities of the State. He was then escorted to the Executive Chamber, when the Governor introduced him to the State Senators and the Lieut-Governor. Gen. Grant, Admiral Farragut, Mr. Welles, and others, were subsequently introduced.

I tried several kinds of patent medicines but found no relief. I also tried the skill of the most eminent Physicians but still found no relief. I was at last induced to try your Pills [THE SOUTHERN HEPATIC PILLS,] and from the first dose I found relief, and continued to mend until I was perfectly cured. I am now a well man."

A New and Grand Epoch in Medicine!

DR. MAGGIEL is the founder of a new Medical System! The quantitarians, whose vast internal doses enfeeble the stomach and paralyze the bowels, must give precedence to the man who restores health and appetite, with from one to two of his extraordinary Pills, and cures the most virulent sores with a box or so of his wonderful and all healing Salve. These two great specifics of the Doctor are fast superseding all the stereotyped nostrums of the day. Extraordinary cures by Maggiel's Pills and Salve have opened the eyes of the public to the inefficiency of the (so-called) remedies of others, and upon which people have so long blindly depended. Maggil's Pills are not of the class that are swallowed by the dozen, and of which every box full taken creates an absolute necessity for another. One or two of Maggiel's Pills suffices to place the bowels in perfect order, tone the stomach, create an appetite, and render the spirits light and buoyant! There is no griping, and no reaction in the form of constipation. If the liver is affected, its functions are restored; and if the nervous system is feeble, it is invigorated. This last quality makes the medicines very desirable for the wants of delicate females. Ulcerous and eruptive diseases are literally extinguished by the disinfectant power of Maggiel's Salve. In fact, it is announced that Maggiel's Billious, Dyspeptic and Diarrhoea Pills cure where all others fail. While for Burns, Scalds, Chilblains, Cuts and all abrasions of the skin, Maggiel's Salve is infallible. Sold by J. MAGGIEL, 11 Pine St., New York, and all Druggists, at 25 cts. per box.

SOMETHING NEW

UNDER THE SUN.

A New Era In Medicine

☞ Let the Suffering and Diseased read the following

☞ Let all who have been given up by Doctors, and spoken of as incurable, read the following.

☞ Let all who can believe facts and can have faith in evidence, read the following:

Know all men by these presents, That on this, the Twentieth day of June, in the year of our Lord, One Thousand Eight Hundred and Sixty-Six, personally came Joseph Haydock to me, known as such, and being duly sworn, deposed as follows: That he is the sole general agent for the United States, and dependencies thereof, for preparations or medicines known as MAGGIEL'S PILLS and SALVE, and that the following certificates are verbatim copies to the best of his knowledge and belief.

JAMES SMEITER,
L. S. Notary Public,
Wall Street, New York.

June 1, 1866.

DR. MAGGIEL:—I take my pen to write you of my great relief and that the awful pain in my side has left me at last—thanks to your medicine. Oh, doctor, how thankful I am that I can get some sleep. I can never write it enough. I thank you again and again, and am sure that you are really the friend of all sufferers. I could not help writing to you, and hope you will not take it amiss.

JAMES MYERS,
116 Avenue D.

This is to certify that I was discharged from the army with Chronic Diarrhœa, and have been cured by Dr. Maggiel's Pills.

WILSON HARVEY,
New York, April 7, 1865. 27 Pitt Street.

The following is an interesting case of a man employed in an Iron Foundry, who, in pouring melted iron into a flask that was damp and wet, caused an explosion. The melted iron was thrown around and on him in a perfect shower, and he was burnt dreadfully. The following certificate was given to me by him about eight weeks after the accident.

New York, Jan. 11, 1866.

My name is Jacob Hardy; I am an Iron Founder; I was badly burnt by hot iron in November last; my burns healed, but I had a running sore on my leg that would not heal; I tried Maggiel's Salve, and it cured me in a few weeks. This is all true, and any body can now see me at Jackson's Iron Works, 2nd Avenue.

J. HARDY,
119 Georick Street.

Extract from Various Letters:

"I had no appetite; Maggiel's Pills gave me a hearty one."

"Your Pills are marvelous."

"I send for another box, and keep them in the house."

"Dr. Maggiel has cured my headache that was chronic."

"I gave half of one of your pills to my babe for cholera morbus. The dear little thing got well in a day."

"My nausea of a morning is now cured."

"Your box of Maggiel's Salve cured me of noises in the head. I rubbed some of your Salve behind my ears and the noise left."

"Send me two boxes; I want one for a poor family."

"I enclose a dollar; your price is twenty-five cents, but the medicine to me is worth a dollar."

"Send me five boxes of your pills."

"Let me have three boxes of your Salve by return mail."

I have over 200 such Testimonals

As this, but want of space compels me to conclude

THE NATIONAL UNION BUSINESS COLLEGE

WASHINGTON, D. C,

Offers superior advantages for a thorough Business Education.

The course of instruction embraces Commission, Importing, Jobbing, Retailing, Bank and other Bookkeeping, Commercial Law, Arithmetic, Correspondence, Spencerian Penmanship and Business Practice.

PENMANSHIP is taught by Henry C. Spencer, the leading author of this system, and celebrated as the Editor of the "Spencerian Key to Practical Penmanship," adopted by nearly all first class Colleges as the standard of criticism. Unusual facilities are here presented for acquiring this valuable art.

The system of "BUSINESS PRACTICE," originated and successfully taught by the Proprietor, receives his special attention. This is the most valuable part of the course. Here the student applies his theoretical knowledge. He buys and sells representative mdse, makes out notes, drafts, invoices, &c., deposits College money in the College Bank, and checks it out as his business requires. Becoming, in turn, Retailer, Wholesale, Forwarder, Banker, he soon acquires a knowledge of business forms, learns to compose and condense the history of every transaction and thinks for himself. He is thus prepared for actual business.

Full scholarship, good for review at any time, with Life Membership in this Union of Colleges extending to the principal cities, only $45. Books and stationery extra.

For circulars giving full information, for specimens of Penmanship, of the College currency and merchandise.

BUCKEYE SULKY PLOW.

Being impressed with the necessity, and importance of economy in farming, I am happy to have it in my power to furnish to farmers at manufacturers prices the BUCKEYE COTTON & CORN CULTIVATOR OR SULKEY PLOW.

It is certainly the greatest improvement of the age in agricultural implements.

It will, with two horses and one hand, cultivate as much land, and do it as well, as four horses and four hands in the usual way; and the plower can either walk or ride at pleasure; which enables old or decripped men, who cannot follow the common plow to execute the work as well as the most robust.

It is manufactured by R. Sinclair & Co., Baltimore, at $70, and is the cheapest plow in use, because of the great saving in hands, teams and provisions. For further information upon the subject, address.
